For immediate release

WINNIPEG/NEW YORK CITY – The World Indigenous Business Forum (WIBF) will take place on Native American tribal territory at the Nokia Theatre in New York City on October 7 2010.

A welcome reception for delegates will take place at the Time Warner Centre in Manhattan on the evening of October 6th. We are pleased to announce the reception Keynote Speaker will be Canadian film director and producer James Cameron.

As a one-day extension to the World Business Forum October 5-6, the WIBF will create and promote a unique learning and networking experience for global Indigenous business and leaders. The WIBF is hosted by the Indigenous Leadership Development Institute, Inc. in partnership with HSM Americas Inc. The joint venture will give representatives exposure to an incredible lineup of speakers specifically tailored to provide the latest insights on the overarching areas critical to the success of any organization, including economy, trends and change; leadership, performance and people; strategy, innovation and communication.

Distinguished filmmaker, screenwriter, editor and inventor James Cameron will share the power of innovation, creativity and passion to achieve one's vision. His stories and insights from behind the scenes will be a highlight of the World Business Forum and WIBF Welcome Reception for delegates. The reception and WIBF combine to create a unique opportunity for Indigenous and Non-Indigenous delegates to develop proactive partnerships and to form strategic alliances with other global leaders. The WIBF is designed for entrepreneurs, First Nation Chiefs and Council members, Tribal and Nation leaders, boards of directors, global corporations and educators. Marketing and registration information will be available shortly and distributed globally.
